LOT 14 - Vintage 1983 Atari 2600 Console with 31 Games

Description

Complete system with original controllers and extensive game library

Classic Atari 2600 "four-switch" Video Computer System with model number CX-2600 A, manufactured by TRW Electronics in 1983. The console includes both standard joystick controllers, paddle controllers, and an extensive collection of 31 original game cartridges spanning multiple game genres.

This vintage gaming system features the classic ribbed black plastic housing with distinctive styling characteristic of the Atari 2600 design. The console retains all original switches and ports in good condition, including power toggle, TV type selector (color/B&W), difficulty switches, and game select/reset buttons. The system is reported to be in working condition, displaying video output as shown with a game cartridge loaded. The comprehensive game collection includes popular titles such as Pac-Man, Combat, Asteroids, Space Invaders, Jungle Hunt, Kangaroo, Dolphin, and numerous others from both Atari and third-party developers.

Condition Notes: Console housing shows minimal scuffing consistent with age. Not all games have been individually tested. Game cartridges display typical label wear but appear to be in good condition. Original serial number label intact on underside. Refer to the pictures and in person inspection for condition.
